

WOMAN SUSPECTED OF MURDERING MAN FOUND AT SEA GIRL

Police Believe Victim Was Slain Elsewhere and Carried Near Governor's Home.

(Special to The Evening World.)
SEA GIRT, N. J., July 30.—With different investigations being conducted under the direction of Coroner Albert W. Bennett and Prosecutor John R. Applegate, Jr., and a dozen clues to follow, the mystery surrounding the murder of a man who was supposed to be George K. Harris of Danbury, Conn., seems to be no nearer a solution this afternoon than yesterday morning when the body was found with three bullet holes in it by Chief of Police George Roberts and Harvey Blakely. The body was discovered near Gov. Fielder's summer home.

Coroner Bennett is working on the theory that the man was killed some distance away from the spot where he was found and taken there. It is thought that his slayers intended placing the body in a vacant house that stands within thirty feet of the tree under which he was found. The keys in the doors of the house, with one exception were found lying on the floor within evidence that someone had forced them.

This theory is strengthened by the fact that there was no indication of blood on the ground where his knee had lain. A bullet from the .22-calibre revolver had passed through the knee. Neither was there any sign of blood under his hand, where another ball had torn its way through the palm and out of the back.

In spite of rumors to the effect that a woman figured in the slaying of the man, no given considerable credence by the authorities. One of the important disclosures is the fact that the revolver was an especially short one and of such design as a woman would probably carry.

Coroner Bennett this morning set next Tuesday as the date for the inquest. Roberts, who found the body of Mr. Blakey, who was with him; George Farr, a hackman, and another man by the name of Cottrell have been summoned to appear, and other witnesses will be allied in the meantime. Cottrill states that the man was sitting on the verandah of the hotel on the afternoon preceding the night he met his death and displayed a considerable amount of money.

Positive identification of the man is expected late this afternoon when Mr. and Mrs. David W. Robinson, proprietors of the Spring Lake boarding house, will visit the morgue to view the remains. The waitress, who, as far as is known, is the only person in whom the dead man confided while there, will come with them.

Coroner Bennett met with a surprise when he visited the man's room at Spring Lake this morning and went through his personal effects in search of something upon which to base an identification. Instead of finding the effects of a laboring man or one in moderate circumstances he found everything of the highest quality. Shakspeare, bound in the finest Morocco, lay upon the table with other classics. They showed that he had not left them idle for they were marked by fingers.

COURT SENDS ROBIN BACK TO THE ISLAND

Cuts Short Plea of Lawyer for Release of the Bank Wrecker.

It took Supreme Court Justice Donnelly less than three minutes to-day to dismiss the latest writ of habeas corpus sworn out by Joseph G. Robin, convicted bank wrecker, who was sentenced to one year's imprisonment in the Penitentiary on Blackwell's Island by Justice Seabury in the Criminal Branch of the Supreme

When the case was called Assistant Attorney Johnstone made his return to the writ and asked that it be dismissed. Robert D. Ireland, counsel for Robison, asked for an adjournment of two weeks. "I will not adjourn the case at the request of the prisoner," replied Justice Donnelly.

"But, is the District-Attorney joins in the request," began Lawyer Ireland.

"Writ dismissed, prisoner remanded," said the justice.

MAN CLAD IN TOWEL CHASED BY STREET CROWD

It Began With a Fire in "Jake's" Shop That Caught Him at Bath Window.

When "Jake" appeared at the window of a bath house in Columbia street this afternoon, yelling "Fy-er!" with all his lunge and clad in a bath towel, the crowd in the street took a fresh alarm and commenced to yell for the police.

Nobody knew "Jake's" other name, but all the street recognized him as a tailor whose shop was over the Metropolitan Laundry at No. 64. At once they turned away from Mrs. Ross Spector and her baby Simon and chased "Jake" down the street into the arms of Policeman Kelly, who readjusted the flying man's drapery, fought off the pursuers and took "Jake" to the station.

Mrs. Specter had been alarmed by a little blaze in the laundry, and picked up her baby, fled to the street. The curtains in the rear windows had become ignited and spread smoke throughout the building. In Kleinkopf's barber shop, adjoining three barbers dropped their razors and joined three customers who were playing casino, in a flight to the laundry, where with small exertion, and much noise they put out the fire.

GIRLS IN COCAINE RAID HELD

Following the recent cocaine raid at No. 13 Bayard street, all the prisoners were arraigned before Magistrate Ho in the Eastern Market Police Court last night. William Goldsboro, No. 13 Bayard street, Daniel Lawrence of No. 73 Mott street, and Samuel Purcell of Newark, N. J., were each held in $2,000 bail for the Grand Jury on the charge of selling cocaine, while Kate Murphy, Minnie Phillips, Margaret Edna Brown, Thomas E. Clark, John Elliot and Bessie Smith were each held in $500 bail for trial in special sessions on the charge of having cocaine in their possession.

800-YEAR-OLD TURTLE IN CENTRAL PARK ZOO

"Critter" Weighs 464 Pounds and Is Too Ugly for Fishmonger to Keep as Shop Exhibit.

Acting Head Keeper Robert Hurton of the Central Park Zoo drove proudly up to the Arsenal to-day in a wagon in which lay the biggest turtle the Zoo ever knew. An assistant keeper and two men from the fish store of Benjamin Katzenstein at No. 1502 Second avenue, the donor, were part of the parade.

The turtle weighs 664 pounds, and, by authority of Mr. Katzenstein is more than eight hundred years old. Mr. Katzenstein explained to Hurton that a fair estimate of the age of a turtle could be made by counting the section

Mr. Katzenbach received the turtle two weeks ago from an agent in California.

The turtle went straight to the bottom of the alligator pool and stayed down all day.

MAYOR'S NEW GRANDCHILD.

MANHATTEN, L. I., July 20.—Mayor and Mrs. Gaylor motored here from New York to-day to pay a visit to their new granddaughter born to Mrs. W. Seward Webb a few days ago. The little one will be christened in a few days and named probably after their mother who is the Mayor's second eldest daughter.

The latest in the Mayor's second grand child, a boy having been born to Mr. and Mrs. W. Seward Webb a year ago.

To Cure Corns, Callouses
Bunions and Aching Feet

The medicine is known to the surveyors as a salicin, but known to science for all feet ailments: "Dissolve two tablets of Calocid compound in a glass of water and drink this for fairly fifteen minutes, gently rubbing the sore parts." The effect is realized almost instantaneously: the feet feel delightful. Corns and callouses can be treated right away. The effect is immediate relief for sore bunions, joints, swellings, rheumatism, and sprains of the feet. A bottle of Calocid compound box of Calocid is said to be sufficient to cure the worst case of corns and callouses. Use Calocid compound and remove the cause of the trouble. Don't waste time on uncertain remedies. Calocid compound is in stock or he can get it in a few hours from his wholesale house.
